Completely Retail Market Place and REVO Conference, London

CRMP had combined with REVO a year ago and further changes within the tried and tested venue of former Billingsgate fish market allowed even more of the retail and leisure property market to get together in one place.

The requirements from the food retailers, fast-food/cafes, gyms and electric vehicle charging points were to the fore as ever, plus new businesses showing their wares on the Showcase stage. REVO hosted well attended lectures on the high street as the market reflected on the now infamous “mini-budget” four days earlier. Talk of adjustments in the market were common, but with a positive spin that even old hands at retail agency could not avoid.

All in all a good day to meet people in the market who wanted to do deals, for example, on Colchester, Stane Retail Park, and to catch up with old friends.
